ABILITY FOR PAYMENTS TO GROW

As part of your strategy, you may want to give your structured settlement payments an opportunity to increase over time, like an occasional pay raise. It can help you manage expenses, or it may simply provide a bit more freedom to do activities you enjoy.

Pacific Life offers the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider.<sup>1</sup> By adding this optional rider to your structured settlement:

- Payments can increase based on positive S&P 500® index returns.
- Payments will not decrease if the S&P 500® index declines or remains flat.

The S&P 500 index is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy.

How the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment Rider Works

If the S&P 500 ® index rises	 Up to 5%	When the S&P 500 ® index rises over a period of 12 months (referred to as “Index Measurement Periods”), your payments will also rise, subject to an annual maximum of 5%.
If the S&P 500 ® index decreases or there is no change	 No Change	When the S&P 500 ® index has a negative or zero return, there is no reduction to the payment amount.

<sup>1</sup>The Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider is not a security and does not participate directly in the stock market or any index, so it is not an investment. It is an insurance product designed to help you prepare for your future.

Index Measurement Periods are not calendar years. They are defined according to when your annuity payments begin. Increases in the index are measured by the percentage difference between the index on the first and last day of each Index Measurement Period. Payment increases take effect on the anniversary of when payments originally started. A cost-of-living adjustment and the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider cannot be used together with the same payment stream.

GROWTH AND PROTECTION

You can earn additional payment amounts based on any positive movement of the S&P 500® index. The following example helps demonstrate how the rider works. Assumptions:

- The four-year returns for the S&P 500® index are for hypothetical demonstration purposes only.
- The rider was added when the annuity was purchased.
- Initial structured settlement monthly annuity payment amount is $1,500 for the first year.
- The annual maximum annuity payment adjustment is 5%.

End of Year	1	2	3	4
Hypothetical S&P 500® Index Return	3%	-4%	8%	5%
Adjustment to Payment Amount (5% Cap)	3%	0%	5%	5%
Resulting Monthly Annuity Payment Amount	$1,545.00	$1,545.00	$1,622.25	$1,703.36

Index Measurement Periods are not calendar years. They are defined according to when your annuity payments begin. Increases in the index are measured by the percentage difference between the index on the first and last day of each Index Measurement Period. Payment increases take effect on the anniversary of when payments originally started. A cost-of-living adjustment and the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider cannot be used together with the same payment stream. Selecting the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider may result in a varying benefit amount based on the annuity type and period selected. This hypothetical example is for illustrative purposes only.

Calculating the Monthly Annuity Payment Amount

The explanation below corresponds to the graph on the previous page.

At the end of each year, if the performance of the S&P 500® index is positive, the monthly annuity payment amount is increased. If an adjustment to the payment is made, it remains level for 12 months.

Positive Index Return of 5% or Less

Payment Amount Is Increased by the Percentage of Index Change

- At the end of year 1, the S&P 500® index returned 3% for the year, so the payment amount was increased 3%, which is an additional $45 in this example, bringing the annuity payment amount to $1,545.00.
- At the end of year 4, the S&P 500® index returned 5% for the year, so the payment was increased 5%, which is an additional $81.11, bringing the annuity payment amount to $1,703.36. When the S&P 500® index has a negative or zero return, there is no reduction to the payment amount.

Positive Index Return of More Than 5%

Payment Amount Is Increased by the Percentage of Maximum 5%

- At the end of year 3, the S&P 500® index returned 8% for the year, so the payment amount was increased the annual maximum annuity payment adjustment of 5%, which is an additional $77.25 in this example, bringing the annuity payment amount to $1,622.25.

Flat or Negative Index Return

Payment Amount Remains the Same

- At the end of year 2, the S&P 500® index returned –4% for the year, so the payment amount remained steady.
