

THE INDEX-LINKED ANNUITY PAYMENT ADJUSTMENT RIDER

Performance Tracking

Pacific Life can help you make the most of your settlement by converting it into a steady, reliable stream of payments by offering an annuity with the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment (ILAPA) rider. By adding this optional rider to your structured settlement annuity:

- Payments can increase based on positive returns of the S&P 500® index.
- No decrease in payments if the S&P 500 index declines or remains flat.

The S&P 500 is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy.

At the end of the annual measurement period, if the performance of the S&P 500 is positive, the monthly annuity payment amount is increased. If an adjustment to the payment is made, it remains level for 12 months and becomes the guaranteed minimum payment for the remainder of the benefit stream.

Returns are for contracts with the ILAPA rider. Dates are for the Index Measurement Period.

All guarantees are subject to the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company.

The index is not available for direct investment, and index performance does not include the reinvestment of dividends.

Index Measurement Periods are not calendar years. They are defined according to when your annuity payments begin. Increases in the index are measured by the percentage difference between the index on the first and last day of each Index Measurement Period. Payment increases take effect on the anniversary of when payments originally started. A cost-of-living adjustment and the Index-Linked Annuity Payment Adjustment rider cannot be used together with the same payment stream.

With the ILAPA rider, there is never a decline in payments if the S&P 500 performance is negative. Payments can only go up or stay the same; they cannot go down.
